British Ambassador to Deliver Major Policy Address Today

SIR ROGER MAKINS, British ambassador to the United States will make the only major policy speech of his present western tour during assembly period at Brigham Young University today, according to Dr. Stewart L. Grow, political science professor.

He will arrive at the Provo Airport at 9:15 this morning aboard a British aircraft, Governor J. Bracken Lee, Salt Lake City Mayor

Earl J. Glade, Provo Mayor Aura C. Hatch, the general authorities of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and other dignitaries will greet the envoy.

All students from any part of the British Empire have been invited to sit on the stand at the fieldhouse during the assembly period. They are also requested to bring flags of their native country to be displayed.

SIR ROGER will be asked to grant members of the press a short conference immediately following his address. Members of the press and wire services from all parts of Utah have been invited to attend the assembly exercises.

Following the press conference the British ambassador will be taken on a guided tour of the campus. He will then be honored at a special luncheon in the Joseph Smith Building.

SIR ROGER is married to a former American citizen, the daughter of Dwight F. Davis, secretary of war in President Calvin Coolidge's cabinet. She is a former resident of St. Louis, Mo.

ENVOY—Sir Roger Makin, British ambassador to the U.S. who will address the studentbody Tuesday morning. His BYU speech will be his only major western address.

Top Assembly Slated for TV Each Quarter

EACH QUARTER'S winning studentbody assembly is scheduled to be broadcast by a Salt Lake City television station. It was announced Monday by Larry Peterson, assemblies chairman.

Broadcasts will be arranged as soon as possible after announcement of the winner each quarter, Peterson said. The shows will be presented in the Salt Lake City studio. The television schedule was arranged by the assembly committee in conjunction with Owen Rich, speech professor.

AS IN PAST years all scriptless assemblies except professional talent, exchanges with other schools, or student program bureau, will be judged by assembly committee. The winner will receive a trophy as well as the accolade.

BYU Athletic Problem Discussed at Meeting

A MEMBER of the Brigham Young University football team told students and faculty members at the monthly sounding board meeting Thursday that he didn't think he would have come to BYU if he were choosing a school for athletic opportunity. He said that it is easy for a team with a losing tradition to lose a football game. (Brigham Young University teams have won four football games in the last three years.)

He added that some of the answers as to why BYU has had a consistently losing team over the past few seasons might be gained in a player-coach survey. "If each player and each coach were interviewed, first-hand information on the situation might be gained," he said.

IT WAS MENTIONED by one student that perhaps this university is not fully taking advantage of conference rules, and that if this were not true, perhaps the conference rules might be revamped.

Dr. Wesley P. Lloyd, dean of students, presided over the meeting. Others present were Dr. Henry L. Isaacs, student coordinator, the executive council, editors of student publications, and cabinet members. In addition to the football team representative, Studentbody President Will Tingey asked for reasons why this university uses class attendance as a factor in grading.

DEAN LLOYD admitted that attendance checks "were not typical," and that using attendance figures as a basis for grading was an "academic penalty for a non-academic function."

No definite answer was given on the question. Dean Lloyd had earlier stated that sounding board meetings were not for the purpose of forming policy, but that their function was to create a liaison between student leaders and the administration.

He termed the meeting a "glorified bull session," and added that he couldn't remember when a problem had been discussed in a sounding board meeting which

It was announced by Ken Young, elections chairman. The decision was made at a Saturday morning trial by the elections committee.

Miss Llewellyn had been disqualified by the committee in a trial Friday night, but was reinstated after her appeal Saturday. She was reinstated at the appeal trial by Lloyd "Duke" George, last year's studentbody president, who is now working in Provo.

Writer Makes Suggestions For 'Play-Time' Activities

By Cathy Colford—
Universe Society Editor

Recently I was discussing the best of "play-time" with several fellow students who told me that although they have been less than a month, they are suffering from boredom because of a lack of "extra-curricular" activities to take up their time.

I was surprised to learn that they had a spare time, and was rather amazed to hear they did not know what to do with it. So, I told them I would try and suggest some interesting and entertaining past-times.

Students are really missing it who don't take advantage of beautiful weather and scenery in this vicinity right now. You could devote one of your free moments to taking a ride in a canyon. You'll enjoy the sight of colorful trees and shrubs in all the novelty of seeing the canyon in the daylight. If you have plenty of time, take a picnic and a lunch, and go hiking around the hills.

If you don't have a car, and don't care to hike, why don't you do some bike-riding? . . . the modern type. These two-wheeled steeds can be rented in town for a slight fee. You and your beau or gal can happily slide away your free time gaily skidding about the town and country.

In case you have classes all afternoon, or you spend that time editing all your studies completed, here are some suggestions for the evening hours. Of course, you can always take a movie, or that would only involve a couple of nights a week, leaving end vice president: Carol Holladay, Idaho Falls, Idaho, secretary; Barbara Payne, Phoenix, Ariz., treasurer; Janet Johnson, Las Vegas, Nev., assistant drill master; Patricia Peterson, Glendale, Calif., historian; Peggy Herron, Magna, drill master; Corley Wickstrom, Pasadena, Calif., reporter; and Juanita Tart, Bicknell, White Key sponsor.

Plans for the coming year include helping out in student of fairs, sponsoring a dance, and putting on an assembly.

you five other evenings to worry about.

Why don't you get the crew together for an old-fashioned taffy pull . . . or fudge fight, whichever type candy you prefer. All you need is a stove, a pan, a candy-mix, energetic party kids, and a few good records to provide the background music. If you need a supervisor, check with your trusty.

You should plan to go roller-skating at least one of your free evenings. That's a wholesome recreation if there ever was one. But when you go, be sure and take along a big bag of kids, because it's a lot more fun if there's a crowd.

Another suggestion is to go bowling. That's a fun sport, and if you get enough practice, they may ask you to join the team.

Dublin Players to Present 'The Ideal Husband' at BYU

THE DUBLIN PLAYERS from Ireland will be presented by the University Theatre in Oscar Wilde's "The Ideal Husband," Friday and Saturday in the Smith Auditorium.

Four performances will be held: two matinees and two evening presentations. The time is 2:30 p.m. for the matinees and 8:30 p.m. for the night performances.

The Dublin Players are now making their fifth coast-to-coast tour of the United States and Canada. Due to popular demand, more than 70 per cent of last year's sponsors have asked them to return, according to Dr. Harold F. Hansen, BYU drama director. They made their first appearance on the campus last year and were warmly received.

PRIMARILY drawn from the Abbey and Gate Theatres of Dublin, they play with the great skill and style characteristic of those two institutions. There is an indefinable spirit, verve, and smartness about their playing and accordingly, they give a new meaning to the great plays of George Bernard Shaw, Oscar Wilde, Louis D'Aloin, Lady Gregory and others.

Opening in the East, the Dublin Players Company make their way to the Pacific coast for November and December, play the Southwest through January, the East coast in February and March, thence to the Midwest and North Central States in April, concluding in Canada and New England in May and early June.

THIS IS A record season, with out a single lay-off, involving more than 30,000 miles of travel, for these intrepid players. Television, radio and other critics from New York to San Francisco have been extravagant in their reception of these Irish and English stars who perform with the group.

Tickets will be $2.50 to the public, but the faculty and student body will be given reserved seats on presentation of their activity cards at the Smith Building ticket office. Tickets are now on sale, and the student body will be served on a first come basis. The seating is limited, so those interested in attending should get their tickets immediately.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer pioneers in design and sales of new tiny transistors

The germanium transistor—some smaller than the eraser end of a pencil and able to operate on a few thousandths of a watt —is probably one of the most promising developments in the electronics field today. It opens the way to new midjet radios, TV sets flat enough to hang on a wall and many other exciting possibilities.

One of the men who helped design and perfect these tiny transistors—and the man who is now head of sales for all General Electric germanium products—is James H. Sweeney, Manager—Marketing, Semiconductor Products Department.

Sweeney's Work Interesting, Vital

As early as 1948, Sweeney was head of a group that studied the design and possible uses of germanium products. He gained national recognition for his work in developing and introducing these products to other industries, and when a new Semiconductor Products Department was formed in 1953, Sweeney was a natural choice for the job of marketing these products.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Sweeney came to General Electric in 1941, he worked in many different departments until he finally found the work he wanted to do. Like Sweeney, each of the 25,000 college-graduate employees is given the chance to grow, to find the work he does best, and to realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits —the individual, the company, the country.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

GENERAL ELECTRIC

JAMES H. SWEENEY joined G.E. in 1941 after graduating with a B.S. degree in E.E. from the University of Pennsylvania. During World War II he served four years with the Army.

CHARITY CHAMPION—Junea Jex, Spanish Fork, accepts the Campus Chest Queen trophy from Amelia Hoops, dress chairman. Miss Jex won the queen title by collecting most money during the week-long charity drive. According to Hoops the drive will be continued soon, when arrangements for contacting the student body have been improved.

Ancestral Clue Lost on Campus By Student Having it Translated

A FINNISH PASSPORT that may be the only clue to her parents' and ancestors has been lost on Brigham Young University campus by Claudia Bowers, Eagle Ave.

Miss Bowers lost the worn, black-covered folder somewhere between the Smith Building and her apartment on 9th North as she returned home from classes Wednesday night.

SHE HAD borrowed the passport from her older brother, who has kept it since the death of their parents.

She had planned to take it to the genealogical library of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints to try tracing her Finnish ancestors and her parents' backgrounds through the information in the passport. She thought it to be useless to have it translated into English.

THE DOCUMENT is about 4 1/2 x 4 1/2 in., and is patterned with tape. The name of Miss Bowers' father is Johannes Luoma and her own name and address are inside.

A reward will be offered for its return, she said. The passport may be brought to the University Office or the Security Office, or Miss Bowers may be contacted at FR 3-2990.

Toy Shop to Theme Thursday Assembly

"Grippe's Toy Shop" will be the theme of Thursday's assembly, announced Gary Smith, assembly publicity chairman.

The assembly will be presented by Nathanial Brighell, and Co. To the social units. Co-chairmen are Evelyn Murray, Nantules, Dorothy Manning, Costa Te. The assembly will begin at 5:30 p.m. in Smith Hall.
